CALLS THREAT TO RAISE PRICE A BLUFF

Recalcitrant Ones Expected to Fall in Line as Legal Campaign Develops.

If any doubt existed in the minds of certain milk dealers in this city that Dr. S. S. Goldwater, the Health Commissioner, would allow them an indefinite length of time to comply with the milk pasteurization regulations they were disabused of this yesterday, when he ordered several prosecutions. Dr. Marion B. Mc-Millan, who cleaned up the city last year and who is in charge of food supervision and milk inspection, was given explicit orders to go after all offenders. Dr. Goldwater had set March 1 as the day when the regulations should be complied

As explained at the Health Department yesterday, there is enough pasteurization suchinery now installed in this city to meat all the milk required by the regulations. This is practically the greater norting of the city's supply of approximately 19400 gallons a day. Certain high grades are exempted. Where small dealers have not installed their own apparatus they will be compelled to have the milk pasteurized by other dealers.

An official of the department, speaking of Dr. Goldwater's plans, had this to say:

The milk dealers have had since October to get ready. The majority have done to but a certain few evidently believed the Health Commissioner would not enforce the regulations. If they thought they could bluff the Commissioner they were very much mistaken. Dr. Goldwater means to enforce the milk regulations to the letter."

Threats by some of the dealers to thise the price of milk because of the cafercement of the milk regulations as a fell flat. The Health Commissioner has long been conversant with the milk problem in this dit. He declared the increat to be without economic justification, for at the present time the dealers can get all the milk they vant, a large amount being available in canada since the tariff was removed.

Pleas were received from several small dealers yesterday for a further extension of time. They were not granted. It is not expected that the battle with the tardy dealers will be a long one. In fact, the real-citrant ones are expected to give way in short order when court actions stare them in the face.

The fight to pasteurize all but the highest grades of milk was carried on throughout the Lederle administration. The Commissioner was criticised at the time of a typhoid epidemic last fall, occasioned, according to the health authorities, by a supply of raw milk, because he had not succeeded in bringing all of the milk outside the special grades within the pasteurization bounds. Dr. Goldwater, on assuming office, was confronted with this problem, and is doing everything to solve it without delay, asserting that it is a matter of public health necessity.

CONTROLLER ON WARPATH Ousts Nine from Finance Department, Saving $7,600.

A number of changes in the Finance Department were announced yesterday. It is understood that others will come later, as a number of the attachés of the Bureau of Municipal Investigation and Statistics will go over, with Tilden Adamson, to the Bureau of Contract Supervision, just established.

The Controller has "terminated the service of hine employes, whose salaries agregated $23,500, and has appointed six hew men at an aggregate salary of $16,-290, making a net saving of $7,600. Most of the places are those of auditors. With the exception of one man, all those leaving the department were appointed by Cartoller Grout or Metz.

Joseph L. Hance, of No. 420 West 130th street, Manhattan, who is giving up a position as auditor at $4,000 a year, has an interesting history. He was correspondent for The Tribune in the Franco-Prussian War. Later he became the secretary to Governor Tilden and had a leading part in the campaign of Tilden for President. Mr. Hance has been in poor health for some time.

The appointment of Maurice Breen, of No. 3817 Avenue I, Brooklyn, as an auditor at $5,000 a year is a personal one with the Controller. William Schmitzpan, who is appointed an auditor at $3,000 a year, is the Republican leader of the 20th Assembly District, in Kings County.

FIRE IN WHITNEY'S HOME Blaze in Polo Player's House

Put Out After Slight Damage. A are, which was confined to only a few collars' worth of damage, occurred yesterday in the home of Harry Payne White ney, the well known sportsman and capfain of the victorious polo team of the United States. From the library, on the third floor of the five story brownstone building at Nos. 1 and 3 East 68th street, Policeman Jeffrey, of the East 67th street Mation, shortly after 16 o'clock, noticed moke escaping. He ran to the building, and after several minutes of ringing and pounding was answered by a maid, who informed him that there had been a slight fire, but that the domestics had extin-Poixhed the blaze. It had been due, she said, to defective insulation. The loss was very trifling, the only Gamage being to the curtains.
